

Gardening Tips Online from Carolina Springs Garden

Do you have a home garden or do you want to start one? Join the “Carolina Springs STEM Sprouts” group on Edmodo. Mr. Frank started this online group for Carolina Springs students and parents as a way to share what is going on in our school garden, to help teach our students how to grow their own home gardens, and as a place for us all to share pictures and information about the plants we are growing.

Gardening is a great way to connect children with nature. It encourages them to explore basic science concepts while fostering a healthy diet and active lifestyle. All of that and you get free veggies besides? Why wouldn't you start a garden?

To join our group, click add group on your child's Edmodo account and enter the join code sy5xcs